1. Dr. Hanns-Erich Haack, Librarian of the Secretariat for Foreign Affairs in the Federal Chancellery, has been entrusted with setting up an archive, the basis of which will be several tens of former German Foreign Office documents which arrived in Bonn from London in mail bags December 22.
2. Haack places special emphasis on the value of records from the twenties, contending that present conditions parallel many aspects of that period. He has expressed the hope that the London shipment contains material he has sought for the past three months on a Stinnes proposal for the industrialization of French Morocco through the resettlement of 300,000 Germans there. In the opinion of Haack, Poincaré rejected the proposal originally, only because it was German. He believes it now possible, in the present climate of relations to revive the plan.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
